

TUCKER BILL

It Is Voted Promptly Through the House, And the Federal Elections Law Is So Far Repealed.

The Vote Stood 300 Yeas to 101 Nays—The Populists Voted for the Amendment on the Affirmative—The First Great Change Made by Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—There was not a quorum of democratic members present at noon Tuesday, but representatives entered quickly and the house was soon filled.

Mr. Outwater (dem., O.), from the committee on rules reported a resolution for the immediate consideration of the bill amendatory of the Federal Elections Law, and the house proceeded under the special order to the consideration of, and the vote on the Tucker federal election bill, and amendments thereto.

The first vote was on Burrows' amendment to Lacy's amendment, and it provided for the retention of sections 3005, 3006, 3007, 3008, 3009 and 3010.

On a standing vote there were 81 in the affirmative and 189 in the negative. This showed that the democrats had their quorum, and the yeas and nays were ordered.

The next vote was on the Lacy amendment, which strikes from the repealing clause the criminal sections of the statute.

The amendment was rejected—yeas, 100; nays, 198.

At 2:45 p. m. the Tucker bill was passed by a party vote of yeas 300; nays 101. The populists voted with the democrats in the affirmative.

At 2:45, immediately after the passage of the Tucker bill, the house adjourned.

[The federal elections bill was introduced in the house September 11 by Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, and was passed with amendments, on September 30. For the past three weeks the house has debated on the measure fiercely. The bill is entitled, "A bill to amend the statutes relating to the supervisors of elections and special deputy marshals, and for other purposes."

SPAIN TAKES A STAND.

English interference in Morocco not to be tolerated.

PABLA, Oct. 11.—A portion of the French press continues to make charges to the effect that the rebellion of the Moors against the Spanish authorities is instigated by England in order that the latter country may have the opportunity of intervening in Morocco. This causes the Rappell to remark that Spain will not allow herself to be bullied and that France and all other powers will support her in the stand she will make against English interference.

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—Over 30,000 spectators assembled at the various meetings which took place here Monday evening. The speeches made were moderate in tone and the other powers will support her in the stand she will make against English interference.

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—In the Reichsrath Tuesday Dr. Emil Stelzhamer, finance minister for Austria, presented the budget for 1904. The budget showed a surplus of 41,492 florins compared with the previous year, the estimates are increased 7,750,000 florins and the revenue is increased 3,500,000 florins. The army estimates show an increase of nearly 1,000,000 florins.

BREXIT, Oct. 11.—The North German Gazette Tuesday, referring to the increased naval expenditure of Germany, said that the prescribed programme for the systematic development of the fleet will not be exceeded.

Emma Goldman Convicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Emma Goldman, the anarchist, has been found guilty of the misdemeanor known to the law as "unlawful assemblage." She heard the news without flinching. Under the conviction she may be sentenced to pay a fine of from $1 to $500, or imprisonment for from one day to one year in the penitentiary on either alternative, or both.

The Buildings May Stand.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Engineers and architects are firm in the belief that the World's fair building will stand the elements for years to come. Director of Works Daniel H. Burnham, and his staff of skilled engineers and architects, declare that the building is of a reasonable amount of care and no great cost. The World's fair may be revived in all its external glory in any succeeding year for several years on one schedule.

Biggest Train Load Ever Carried.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Erie special World's fair excursion, which left New York Monday morning with 400 passengers, passed through the city last night in six sections of ten to twelve cars each, with 2,222 passengers. This Chicago excursion bears all records, being the largest number of people ever hauled for this distance by any road on one schedule.

Business Embarrassments.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—The South Baltimore Car Works, which are now placed in the hands of receivers, with assets of $717,000; liabilities, $294,000.

REPUBLICAN

SECOND YEAR. MAYSVILLE, KY., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1903. ONE CENT.

A PORRIDGE CONCLUSION.

New York Advertiser.—The deaf and dumb man who presents himself as a candidate for the United States Senate will be tumultuously elected.

POOR LOU IS KICKING.

Detroit Journal.—One can hardly blame the Pine Ridge Indians for breaking out again into ghost dancing. They, too, are waiting for Congress to do something.

AND LOTS OF IT.

Chicago Inter Ocean.—Faith, hope and charity will be needed to carry the unemployed laborers through the era of Democratic Tariff reform; especially charity.

OLD DOMINION JUSTICE.

Minneapolis Journal.—A New York man has been imprisoned in Virginia for violating his wife's law. It will be observed that he had to go to Virginia to get his deers.

MASSACHUSETTS' RUSSELL.

Chicago Record.—When the history of Massachusetts comes to be written the historian will have to invent some device for preventing a disastrous confusion of Russells.

NOT OVERWORKED.

Kansas City Journal.—Mr. Cleveland doesn't appear to have overworked that "rugged homer" in dealing with Van Allen and his $50,000 campaign contribution.

CHICAGO METHODS.

Philadelphia Press.—The United States Senate is giving an illustrated example to the civilized world of how an elective legislative body can deliberately smother public opinion.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

Florida Times Union.—It seems as if there has been a new craze to kill thousands flies in a day. Every well-regulated household should own at least one able-bodied wasp.

SINGULAR.

Dallamora American.—The New York Press finds that of the 363 words of President Cleveland's latest letter, seventy-eight refer to himself. This is singular—first person singular.

AWFUL.

Galveston News.—A poor editor in Arkansas offers to accept "greens on subscription account." This beats all letters out of the best we can, for nobody knows what is going to turn up.

A RADICAL EXPERIMENT.

New York Times.—The recent action of New Zealand in voting to give the vote upon women is the most radical step that has yet been made in this direction.

The women of Wyoming enjoy full suffrage, but the state exerts but little influence in National affairs. New Zealand is virtually an independent Government, destined in time probably to be a distinct Nation.

It is to be noted, however, that New Zealand as it is today is practically a new country. Its population is made up largely of self-reliant and enterprising pioneers, placed amid new conditions. Prejudices have had little chance to become fixed. Habits of political thought and action in the main are still to be formed. Vested interests as yet exercise little restraining influence over public policy. The conservative instinct so powerful in older communities has reached only its earlier stages of development. New Zealand, in a word, has attained that plastic period of growth when, without shock or apprehension, it can readily adapt itself to what else, where might be considered radical departures to existing institutions.

The experiment in this direction will be watched with worldwide interest. In no country will it be followed with more eager attention than in the United States, where latterly the political activity of the feminine sex has become so marked. The great Western Republic has set an example of representative Government based upon manhood suffrage. It would be more surprising that New Zealand should furnish mankind with an example of similar Government, based upon a suffrage which knows no discrimination of sex.

The funeral of Miss Carrie Bradford, brief mention of whose death was made in yesterday's LEADER, will occur Friday afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. O. Cochrane. The burial will be at Charter Oak Cemetery, Aberdeen. The friends of the family are invited to attend.

"DICKIE my term of service in the army I contracted chronic diarrhea," says A. E. Bendley of Halley, Oregon. "Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found that what would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no more return of ailment." For sale by Power & Reynolds, Druggists.

MAINSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect For the Next Twenty-four Hours.

THE LEADER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White steamers—Fair.
Blue—Breeze or squall.
With Black—Rain—well warmed.
Green—Rain—well warmed.
Yellow—Rain—well warmed.
Red—Rain—well warmed.

THE above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

FRESH BAIT OYSTERS at Martin Bros.

TORRACIO IN BARS INHURED BY DULEY & Baldwin, Agents, Court street.

SEVERAL LOUISVILLE barbers have been arrested for violating the Sunday closing law.

AYER'S Hair Vigor is justly considered the best and most economical hair dressing in the market.

WILLIAM WORMALD warns the blacksmiths to know that he has received a supply of good smithing coal.

DON'T fail to see at the Opera-house on Monday, October 11th, the Grand Transformation Scene of the Six Little Brinsles.

The majority of the physicians of Maysville have complied with the new law governing their profession. The object of the new law is to protect the home physician for the work of the itinerant doctors.

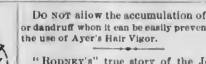

WHILE in Chicago I attended an engagement sale and bought a very large stock of Gold Watch Cases; also Gold Filled and Silver Cases and ornaments. The prices were all at very low prices. These goods I will now place on sale at prices which defy competition. Now is your chance to get cheap.

SUCCESSOR to Hopper & Murphy.

The old reliable Germanfort Fair will hold its thirtieth annual meeting October 11th to 13th, inclusive. The premiums offered for the various classes are liberal and the stock will be fine. There is only one fair in the state that is older and that is Paris. If you want to see your friends attend the Germanfort Fair.

THE famous Stone Wall Brigade Band of Staunton, Va., passed through the city Sunday en route to Chicago, where they have special arrangements to play for two weeks. This band is doubtless the oldest one in the United States and decidedly the most historical. It was organized during the war and was with Stonewall Jackson's command from which it took its name. Those dying off since the war have been replaced by members of the same family and the same blood that thrilled the boys of yore in this manner kept in the band.

PERHAPS some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this remedy is taken as soon as cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with Nature, and aids Nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restores the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other is so safe and so quickly. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

PARNELLITES

Will No Longer Support Gladstone or His Policy.

They Resolve to Withhold Their Support in Parliament.

John Redmond, their Leader, Makes a Bitter Case of the Gladstone Case, Said Mr. Redmond, Is Resolved by a Decisive Fight.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—John Redmond, the Parnellite leader and member of parliament for Waterford, made a speech at the Parnellite meeting here which indicates clearly that the Parnellites will no longer support Mr. Gladstone or his policy. Mr. Redmond discussed the home rule situation, and remarked that the whole question had undergone a fatal change. Continuing, Mr. Redmond said that the situation they had met to consider was one of deadly peril to Ireland; the home rule question had been hung up by the liberal party in parliament, and the independent nationalists who consented to submit to the rejection of the home rule bill were either fools or slaves.

Continuing, Mr. Redmond said that the Irish cause at the present moment was menaced by a deadly peril which was the inevitable result of the national surrender to the Gladstone policy. The late Charles Stewart Parnell's prediction was fully justified, said Mr. Redmond; there was no use in deceiving the Irish people by the Gladstone policy, the British people had taken up home rule acted from any other motive than necessity, and only when they realized that British interests were imperiled.

The danger, the speaker declared, lay in the fact that Ireland no longer blocked the Gladstone policy, according to Mr. Redmond, had hung up home rule for an entire year (until 1894) at least, and now they intended to let the Gladstone policy pass through the House of Commons, without having secured, so far as Ireland was concerned, the approval of the Irish people. The Gladstone policy would result in a large part of Mr. Parnell's life work undone, and home rule would disappear for a generation or more.

Moreover, he continued, what kind of home rule did Mr. Gladstone offer? The bill which the Gladstone government claimed, was dead; and the next one would undoubtedly be a further compromise measure.

Mr. Redmond made definite announcement to the effect that at the coming session of parliament he and his followers would decide to follow the Parnellite division in the lobby on English questions. This statement by Mr. Redmond was greeted by loud and prolonged cheering.

Mr. Redmond said that he believed the Parnellites' opportunity was at hand. The opposition to the Gladstone policy was beginning to be unmasked and all their leader's predictions would be verified. (Loud applause.)

Mr. Redmond then passed resolutions to the effect that the refusal of the government to consider at the autumn session a measure to reinstate the Parnellite division in the lobby, refusal to release the Irish political prisoners, and Mr. Gladstone's failure at Edinburgh recently to define his intention upon the part of the Gladstone policy he intended to follow in regard to home rule. All this, it was claimed, necessitates that immediate action upon the part of the Parnellite party is necessary, and that a reorganization of that party throughout the country is one of the first steps to be taken.

Three Million New Votes.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Vienna correspondent of the Standard says that the bill which Mr. Chamberlain introduced in the Reichsrath, will, if passed, give the suffrage to about 3,000,000 new voters and approaches nearer to universal suffrage than any other bill for the increase of the suffrage already before the Reichsrath, with the exception of the measure offered in behalf of the Parnellites.

Grand Fete of the Fair.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The committee on ceremonies was told by the resolution passed without dissent to prepare for the grandest and most successful a fitting close to the fair. The committee on ceremonies will have continued the preparations for the grand finale. They purpose making it sparkle with military features, illumination and oratory.

American Republics Invited.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Oct. 11.—The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Co. and the Pitts and Roanoke Furnace companies, of this place, have discharged all the Parnellite troops from the place with Americans. The Italians are discontented over the revolution, and about three hundred of the foreigners have left for their homes in sunny Italy.

A Young Murderer Pardoned.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 11.—The Parnellite has pardoned the English convict in the Fayette criminal court of manslaughter, at the July term, 1898, and sentenced to one year confinement in the penitentiary. The grounds for the pardon are that the petitioner is but 17 years of age, and he is afflicted with a disease which can not be successfully treated.

Colored Lawyers Form an Association.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 11.—About three hundred colored lawyers, representing nearly every state in the south, met in the city of Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday morning in answer to a call for the purpose of organizing an international bar association.

Against Price Fixing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The Parnellite, of Indiana, presented a petition of citizens of Richmond, Ind., asking that the use of the mails be denied newspapers and other mail containing reports of price fixing.

The Issue of Honest Elections.
The opponents of Federal elections
have not advanced a single argument that is worthy of the name. Their utterances chiefly consist of vehement assertions and vindictive boasts, in equal defiance of the facts of history and the principles of constitutional law. The keynote of their speech is the declaration that the Federal Election law is "unconstitutional." A more absurd statement could not be put into words. The constitutionality of the law has been affirmed time after time by the highest judicial tribunal that Americans know, the Supreme Court of the United States. The Press will quote a brief part of a single decision. In ex parte Yarborough (140 U. S. 8, 65) Justice MILLEN delivered the opinion of the court and no dissent was noted. He said:

That a Government whose essential character is Republican, whose executive and legislative body are both elected, whose most august and powerful branch of the legislature is elected by the people directly, has no power by appropriate laws to secure the election the influence of violence, of corruption and of fraud, is a proposition so starting as to attract no serious consideration.
If this Government is anything more than a mere aggregation of delegated agents of other states and Governments, each of which is superior to the general Government, it must have the power to protect the elections on which its existence depends from violence and corruption. If it has not this power it is left helpless before the two great natural and historical enemies of all republics, open violence and insults and corruption. (Pages 637, 638.)

Yet in the face of this and of other decisions equally weighty the Democrats in the House of Representatives keep up their senseless reiteration that it is "unconstitutional" for a representative Government to defend his own life.

No intelligent person believes that the Federal Election laws interfere with the rights of any citizen. A Democratic Statesman no less prominent than the late S. C. Cox is on record as declaring in a report to Congress that the operations of these laws had proved "a decided success," and that in the hotly contested election of 1870 they stand "as a monument of what good faith, honest endeavor, legal forms and just authority may do for the protection of the electoral franchise." This is testimony that should carry conviction to every honest Democrat.

But the men who are trying to get the Federal Election laws off the statute books are not acting honestly. They are doing all they can to bring about a reign of fraud and terrorism at the polls in New York City. They are conspiring not alone against the Republican party, but against the common rights of all citizens, white or black, rich or poor, who venture to oppose the will of Democratic bosses, whether in Alabama or New York. They are striving to upset the Republican Government, not indeed in the South—for it no longer exists there —but in the great free communities of the North. The Tammany bosses see in the repeal of the Election laws an opportunity to make their despotism over this city absolute. They see before them, if this one bulwark of the ballot box can be torn down, a long carnival of unchecked fraud and corruption; a wider license to plunder the people to enrich themselves. The repeal of the Federal Election laws means more stealing, more diamonds, more fast horses, swift yachts and splendid mansions for the magnates of the Fourteenth street conspiracy against decent Government. It means increased arrogance from the successors and imitators of TWEEK; the sifting of the votes of the people at the polls; the degradation of every function of Government; the enslavement of the grand Empire State to the most corrupt elements of the Democratic party.

Against these evils the Republican party, as it is represented in Congress, is the sole barrier. Let every Republican be his duty by fighting this infamy with all his might! The rights of American voters and the integrity of the ballot box must be maintained if the Republic is to live!

SQUIRE'S SILVER BILL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Senator Squire, of Washington, Tuesday morning proposed another amendment to the silver bill under consideration in the senate.
Like his other proposition it strikes out all after the enacting clause and proposes an entirely new scheme. The new proposition is intended to take the place of the former proposed bill and is a compromise which embraces nearly everything demanded by the different sides of the silver question. It does, however, meet with more approval from leading senators than anything that has yet been suggested. It is understood that Senators Teller, Allison, Sherman and others have said that it is the best compromise that has been suggested. Senator Squire intends to ask that each proposition be voted on separately, so that if some of the propositions are not acceptable others will be.

The following is the text of Senator Squire's new compromise. It provides that hereafter any owner of silver bullion, the product of mines or refineries located in the United States, may deposit it at any mint of the United States to be formed into standard silver dollars of the present weight and fineness of the former proposed bill and said; but it shall be lawful to refuse any deposit of less value than $100 or any bullion so base as to be unsuitable for the operation of the mint. It is provided, however, that there shall only be delivered or paid to the person depositing the silver bullion such number of standard silver dollars as shall equal the commercial value of the silver bullion on the day of deposit, as ascertained and determined by the secretary of the treasury. The difference, if any, between the mint value of the standard silver dollars and the value of the silver bullion deposited shall be retained by the government as seigniorage, and the gain arising from such seigniorage shall be seconded by and paid into the treasury. The deposits of silver bullion for coinage into silver dollars shall not exceed the sum of $2,000,000 a month.

The amount of the seigniorage or gain shall be retained in the treasury as a reserve fund in silver dollars, or such other form of equivalent lawful money, as the secretary of the treasury may from time to time direct, for the purpose of maintaining the full number of value of every silver dollar issued under the provisions of this act, with the gold dollar issued by the United States. These silver dollars of standard silver dollars coined shall reach the sum of $100,000,000, then all further coinage of silver dollars shall cease. These silver dollars shall be a legal tender in all payments at their nominal or coin value, and no certificates shall be issued to represent them. So much of the act approved July 11, 1890, as directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase from time to time silver bullion to the aggregate amount of 4,500,000 ounces is hereby repealed.

The secretary of the treasury is authorized by the amendment to issue and dispose of, at not less than par in coin, bonds of the United States bearing interest not to exceed 8 per cent. on the principal, and which are to be redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, after five years from their date of issue, the quality, provided for the bonds at present authorized to the extent of $300,000,000 and to use the proceeds thereof for the purpose of maintaining the full number of value of the United States notes, and to the provisions of the act approved January 14, 1875, and for the further purpose of maintaining all the money of the United States at par with the gold dollar.

Hereafter national banking associations shall be entitled to receive from the controller of the currency upon compliance with all other terms and requirements of law thereof, circulating notes of different denominations, in blank; registered and counterfeited, as required by law, to the value at par of the United States bonds on deposit with the treasurer in trust for the association. Provided that the aggregate sum of such notes for which any association shall be liable, at any time, shall not exceed the amount of the capital stock at the time actually paid in.
